MARILYN KING

Featured in the new book, Enlightened Power - How Women are Transforming the Practice of Leadership, Marilyn King's influence reaches beyond sports into areas of business, leadership development and exceptional human performance. Marilyn was already a two-time Olympian when a devastating automobile accident left her unable to train physically for her third Olympic team. Using only mental training she placed second in the demanding 5-event pentathlon at the 1980 Olympic Trials.

Since then, Ms. King has become one of America's leading authorities on exceptional human performance. With over twenty-five years of extensive research into the secrets of extraordinary accomplishment in sports, business, and education, she delivers powerful, proven, and practical tools that help her audiences release the 'Olympian' within themselves. Her common sense approach, unique insights, and inspiring presence deliver lasting results (and standing ovations) wherever she speaks.

“Your presentation on Olympian Thinking clearly had an impact on our sales reps. The standing ovation speaks for itself!”

Kelly Neal, Business Development Program Manager, Hewlett-Packard

“Marilyn, you were a true partner with us and your inspirational keynote address played a significant role in providing a larger context to understand the global implications of our work at XBS. Olympian Thinking (Passion, Vision, Action) as a concept for understanding how ordinary people achieve extraordinary things, greatly supported and enhanced all our messages.”

Chris Turner, Change Strategy Team, Xerox Business Services

“The reviews are still coming in and our President's Club members continue to talk about your incredibly inspiring presentation! More people should know about you Marilyn, as you truly moved us. You made us reflect and you made us all aware that ordinary people like us can achieve what we set our minds to.”
