

"Your Story of Now"

A Leader's Unique Responsibility In Challenging Times

In this insightful keynote presentation, two-time Olympian Marilyn King equips leaders to fulfill their unique role at this critical time. Learn to manage one's own mindset and that of their team is paramount.

In this experiential program bring an agile mind and be prepared to:

- ★ Explore "Your Story of Now"
- ★ Discover one essential responsibility of a leader in times of uncertainty, challenge and systemic change
- ★ Apply the three qualities of high performance teams – and learn how effective leaders nurture and support these in challenging times
- ★ Recognize why most feedback systems don't work – a lesson from the Olympic practice field
- ★ Experience 'The Olympic Minute', an easy-to-use morning practice for immediately increasing energy, creativity, and effectiveness

(Programs are always customized to meet the objectives of the sponsoring organization.)

MARILYN KING

"We initially hired you to do a one-day experiential session with our entire staff. The session far exceeded our expectations...As a result, a decision was made to integrate your Olympian Thinking into our 'Leadership...The Journey Continues' program."

Chuck Blodgett, Manager at IBM Management Development

"Once again, my most sincere thanks for your unique contribution to the Haas' Berkeley Executive Program. For the third year in a row, your session rated among the best, which puts you in a category shared with such luminaries as Nobel Prize winner Glenn Seaborg... I'm grateful for your continued commitment to engage our executives in the important conversations that are shaping our world."

Claudia Welss, Director-Berkeley Executive Program, UC Berkeley

"As Managing Director of the Foundation and charged with cultivating a national understanding of quality, I am delighted with the response that Marilyn has received. The reception of Marilyn's ideas is beyond my own expectation. Not only is her material sound and grounded, her presence vibrates with positive energy, enthusiasm, intelligence and compassion. She is indeed the kind of leadership role model that I dreamed of bringing to Aruba."

Dr. Juliet Chieuw, Managing Director, Aruba Quality Foundation
